

25X1

SECRET

REPORT

25X1

COUNTRY Poland

DATE DISTR. 30 Oct 53

SUBJECT Passive Antiaircraft Defense and Practice Alerts
in the 62nd Infantry Regiment

NO. OF PAGES 2

PLACE
ACQUIREDNO. OF ENCLS.
(LISTED BELOW)DATE
ACQUIREDSUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO.

25X1

DATE OF INFO

THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

25X1

Alert System in the 62nd Inf. Regt.

1. There were four "practice" alerts in 1952-53, each lasting about one hour and in which all personnel with equipment, including weapons without ammunition, assembled in the parade area for a roll call. There was one "combat" alert in April 1953, in which personnel moved out for three days with their equipment, including weapons with ammunition.

25X1

Passive Antiaircraft Defense

2. [redacted] there were old German air raid shelters in POZNAN /N 52-25, E 16-58/ and in PILA (SCHNEIDEMÜHL) /N 53-09, E 16-45/. Each of these shelters could accommodate up to 5,000 people. They were of steel and concrete construction.

25X1

25X1

Shelter

3. [redacted] tents, accommodating 24 men, were used. The tent poles and pins [redacted] were of wood. [redacted] arctic tents were used in February 1953 by certain artillery units during their winter training. [redacted] the tent [redacted] two layers of canvas with cotton or felt inserted between. The interior of the inner tent had another layer of cotton or felt material, stitched to the canvas in a cross fashion. The tents were considered to be warm, even during the coldest days.

25X1

25X1

25X1

25X1

SECRET

ARMY review completed.

25 YEAR RE-REVIEW

25X1

Page Denied

SECRET

25X1

-2-

4. [redacted] above the caserne archway or entrance there were black metal letters reading, "JED WOJSK" (Jednostka Wojskowa-Army Unit). [redacted] the rifle companies in the area had identification boards of black lettering on a white background, example: 2-ga Komp (2d Co.). [redacted]

25X1

25X1

25X1

5.

25X1

SECRET

25X1

Page Denied